

A short project report

Escritto is an early-stage project for formatting supplied text.

This demo keeps the original content, exports an editable document, and checks a real PDF. It does not add facts or invent references.